

STINER GOT ANGRY.

DID BOYS START THESE FIRES?
Three in Rapid Succession in the Bedford District of Brooklyn.

He Thinks He and the Other Justices Are Sadly Abused.

Calls Dr. Parkhurst a Crank and Defends His Colleagues.

Incidentally He Helps Goldfogel in Clearing His Calendar.

The exposure made by "The Evening World" of the base methods in vogue in the civil courts of this city has had a salutary effect. Evils are being hurriedly remedied, and the Justices are rushing things so as to get their calendar clear and make as good a showing as possible.

In the Eighth District Court, which has jurisdiction over the Sixteenth and Twentieth Wards, the court is at 200 West Twenty-second street.

The Justice is Joseph H. Stiner, who has something of a reputation as a police court lawyer. Some idea of Justice Stiner's calibre can be gleaned from a speech he made from the bench yesterday when Dr. Parkhurst's Society, through a tenant, made a complaint against the landlord of an alleged disorderly house in West End street.

"I want it distinctly understood," said the Justice, "that I want it recorded, not only in the minutes of this court, but in the columns of the newspapers, that I do not consider this Parkhurst Society a society for the prevention of crime."

On the contrary, I look upon it as a society for the propagation of crime.

Although some cases are brought to him weekly on Tuesdays and Fridays, Justice Stiner says he is at his court every morning at 9 o'clock, and remains there until 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Tuesdays and Fridays are his "trial days" and Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays his "return days."

There are today about eight cases pending before him. The cases he tries have had the distinguished honor of sitting in two courts yesterday—the Eighth and the Fifth.

Justice Stiner, though smarting under the charge made by "The Evening World" sent for Justice Stiner yesterday to help him dispose of the cases that had piled up in the old court downstairs, while Goldfogel sat in his room above.

Mr. Stiner presided in a room above George Gleason, nineteen years old, of 65 Union street, and John Smith, of Seventh avenue, Brooklyn, were held for examination by Justice Tighe, in the Butler Street Police Court, Brooklyn this morning on the charge of being the mastermind of the kidnaping of Charles W. Powers, of 575 Fifth Avenue.

The policeman James Whalen, of the Tenth Precinct, went to the place in citizen's clothes yesterday, displayed the photograph of his victim, and sent him the ship he had put under arrest.

Gleason was caught writing slips for Monahan, a quantity of slips on the number of which were found.

The place is said to be conducted by Quigley. He has been arrested four times within the last five weeks for similar "plots" and is now in the custody of the police against a similar felon in the Butler Street Court for a similar offense since Jan. 18.

DUNLAP VERY PENITENT.

He Didn't Know How He Got Into Miss Albert's Room.

Thomas Dunlap, the young man who was found sleeping in Miss Myra Albert's room at 21 West Sixty-first street last night, and who was arrested as a suspicious character, says to the inquiry of a New York reporter, "I'm a bad boy."

He got into the room of Miss Albert, he says, because he is slow and easy going. His court is so slow that the waiting lawyers sometimes get impatient and leave.

The Tenth District Court, on One Hundred and Fifty-eighth street and Third avenue, gets all the cases of the Ninth, which includes Justice Civil, Court, which completes the list of civil courts in New York, has jurisdiction over the Twenty-second Ward and a part of the Twenty-third Ward, and is at 200 Eighth avenue.

Justice James A. O'Gorman, who presides over this court, has a law office at 200 Eighth. There are about eighty cases now pending in Justice Civil's court, and like other untenured district courts, things move slowly. This may be due to a scarcity of business, Justice Civil, who holds court three times a week.

SKATING AT MONTREAL.

Davison's New Records—Nurse Wants to Beat Joe Donoghue.

(By Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—The carnival season was inaugurated here last night in a blaze of glory with the brilliant pageant of the crew of Proteus. The city is full of strangers, and the streets are thronged with a large number, though not quite as many as during the carnival.

The reception of Rex during the day was attended with the customary ceremonies.

There were three visiting military companies, the Burgess Corps of Albany, the Dublin and the Boston.

John L. Antler, the captain of the band, was dressed in a pretty coat, and he struck him on the head with a two-pointed iron weight.

LEVY ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT.

Antler Says He Was Struck with an Iron Weight.

Wolf Levy was arrested to-day by Deputy Sheriff Wagner and in default of $100 bail last in the Lawndale Street Jail. The order for this arrest was signed by Judge Dresch of the Court of Common Pleas, and an injunction against him to Miss Antler for loss damages for assault and battery.

Antler is a hawker at 88 Lawndale street, and when he saw that the woman of Hester and Lawndale streets, he was assaulted without cause by Levy, who struck him on the head with a two-pointed iron weight.

MURRAY'S ACCUSER ABSENT.

Policeman Charged with Insulting Woman Goes Back to Duty.

Policeman Murray, of the Mercer street station, who was accused of insulting a woman on the street Saturday night, was before Inspector McAvoy's Police Headquarters this morning. He was accompanied by two policemen and two citizens who were expected to give evidence in his behalf.

The complainant in the case and her husband, John S. Doherty, of 132 East First street, and Inspector McAvoy, of 614 Madison, David and Hilda, have gone to Montreal, Ontario, to skate today and stay through Saturday night. They will give an exhibition of ice speed skating all the time for Saturday.

Davison however, the manager, to 223 Madison, where he said the skating time would be from 9 p.m. to 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. to 8 p.m.

ACCUSES HER OF BIGAMY.

William Nolan thinks his wife has one husband for many.

DRIVEN FROM HOME BY TALK.

Young Husband Gets This Excuse for Abandonment.

Two young husbands were arraigned before Justice Boyle, the city's first and best-paid, of Minneapolis, Minn. David and Hilda have gone to Montreal, Ontario, to skate today and stay through Saturday night. They will give an exhibition of ice speed skating all the time for Saturday.

Davison however, the manager, to 223 Madison, where he said the skating time would be from 9 p.m. to 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. to 8 p.m.

MRS. MUELLER'S WILL.

William Nolan thinks his wife has one husband for many.

NOTARY Bossuet Contradicts His Direct Testimony.

The legal fight to show that Mrs. Crescenza Miller was not in her right mind when she made her will and that undue influence was used by Mrs. Gianna Upton to induce Mrs. Mueller to leave her fortune, estimated at $10,000, to her and disinherit the notary, Mrs. Gianna Upton, was concluded before Surrogate Fitzgerald today.

The defense received a set back in the testimony of Charles J. Boden, the notary, who said he did not know if his will was valid.

He testified to having failed to file the will, but added he had the right to do so.

In Defense of His Son.

William Woolcott, who keeps the restaurant at 268 Central street, writes to "The Evening World" to deny the statements made by the writer of a letter signed William C. Johnson, that his son was frequent by disreputable characters. Mr. Woolcott says the fact that his wife and family have lived in the same room in this home is evidence enough that his son is respectable.

Disturbance in a Mission.

William King and William Proctor, who represented themselves as grooms in a private stable at 304 Amsterdam avenue, were fined $3 each at Yorkville Police Court, today, on the charge of disturbing the peace. The two men, sons of James King and James Proctor, who live at 266 East Forty-ninth street, last night.

For Begging on Fifth Avenue.

Charles Easier and William Winter, who arrested yesterday while begging money from Father O'Farrell on Fifth Avenue, in front of the Vanderbilt mansion, were discharged in Yorkville Court to-day.

Hood's Sarisaparia Cures

Hood's Sarisaparia act harmoniously with Hood's Sarisaparia and are gentle, mild and effective.

JUSTICE BARRETT IS ANGRY.

Inspector Neville Tardy and Counselor Schampain Absent.

The Accused in a Sheriff's Charge and Given a New Lawyer.

The trial of Peter Neville, one of the inspectors of election in the Twenty-eighth Election District of the Fourth Assembly District, for alleged neglect of duty at the last election, was resumed before Justice Barrett in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Several hours were spent loitering near the polling place, and a neighbor thinks one of them had a bundle of straw. It was discovered that the fire had been started with straw placed at the foot of the dumbwaiter.

Shortly afterwards flames were discovered in a coalbox in the cellar of a salaried residence. They were promptly extinguished.

The firemen had only just left when another fire was discovered in an alcove in one of Franklin Avenue's houses. The police found that the fire had been started in a pile of old matting.

Several fires have also been seen in Franklin Avenue.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

There was also a fire last night in the Memnon Hall, located in the Eleventh Assembly District, and Chancery.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice Tandy, is an anti-Tammany candidate.

The accused, who has been given a new lawyer, is a Tammanyite.

The procedure presents a peculiar situation. The prisoner is a Tammanyite, the prosecutor, Assistant District Attorney, who elected Col. John F. Edwards to the District Attorney, and the judge, Justice